

The Southern Texas PGA Section (STPGA) and Perfect Hands Golf (PHG) are excited to announce a strategic partnership. The partnership is designed to help PGA Golf Professional Instructors accelerate golf student learning and development levels with the unique and patent pending PHG system.

“We are thrilled about our new partnership with Perfect Hands Golf,” stated Thomas Hutton, PGA – STPGA Executive Director. “PHG understands the value in partnering with sections at a grass roots level. We believe that their product will help our PGA Members reach more students, young and old, as well as give our Junior Golf Members a great tool to improve their game.”

“We are very excited to partner with the South Texas PGA Section,” stated Mario Karagianis CEO of PHG. “Our Perfect Hands Golf system will provide the system and tools needed for STPGA members to accelerate the learning curve of their students, while building higher clubhead speed and greater strength and distance capabilities.”

STPGA President James Brown from The Clubs at Houston Oaks added, “Perfect Hands was one of the most unique golf training aid products from this year’s PGA Show. You can immediately feel the muscles working to increase strength with resistance, while keeping the club on plane.”
