G-TECH LAUNCHES HEATED GOLF APPAREL COLLECTION AT PGA SHOW

PALM BEACH GARDENS FL. (January 18, 2023) – G-Tech the high-tech apparel company that specializes in heated clothing – is doing its part to make golf a year-round sport with its updated line of hand warming pouches as well as a new line of heated apparel, all designed to keep golfers’ hands warm and ready for the next shot.

The company will be introducing, at this years PGA Show in Orlando, FL on January 24-27, its 3.0 series of heated products which now for the first time, include heated apparel items.

The apparel collection includes men’s and women’s hoodies and vests which contain the brand’s updated hand warming technology.

The updates include:

- Waterproof zippers to increase water resistance
- 3M Poly fill insulation to increase heat retention
- Upgraded, rechargeable battery to increase battery life
- Dual head wall charger for faster charging of two batteries at once

“G-Tech is a must have for all golfers looking to get on the course earlier in the spring and, stay on the course well into the fall and winter,” said Chris Murphy, Executive Vice President at G-Tech

G-Tech hand warming pouches are used by professional & amateur athletes, and their fans, around the world including athletes in the NFL, CFL, NBA, MLB, NCAA as well as golfers on the PGA, LPGA and European Tours.
